Town could get a third skate park

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

HAVERHILL could be in line for a new £150,000 skate park – as well as the existing facility and a planned BMX pump track.

The proposal for a third venue for skating and BMX riding came as part of the town council's draft youth strategy, discussed on Tuesday night.

If the plan goes ahead, the council's youth action group will involve young people from the town in designing the skate park so that it meets their needs.

Town clerk Colin Poole said: "Young people who sign up to create this will actually create something really special, so that people say: 'Have you seen the one in Haverhill?'"

The strategy has been put together based on a survey of the town's young people by the YMCA, and a petition for a skate park put together by Castle

Mr Poole said: "Young people really want an indoor facility, but that's really expensive. We are asking young people to design something that starts outdoors but is designed in such a way that you can have a lid put on it."

He said that the skate park would be constructed in the east of the town, with the preferred location the New Croft in Chalkstone Way, and that the guideline budget they were working to was £150,000.

He said that it was not certain exactly what activity the site would cater for, as there had been interest in parkour facilities as well as equipment for bikes, skateboards and scooters.

After the meeting, Mr Poole said he would be "disappointed if in two years' time it wasn't there", and that it could be delivered even sooner.

The town already has an outdoor skate park in Howe Road, and plans for a BMX pump track on the Clements Estate are under way after People's Health Trust funding was secured for community projects in the Haverhill South ward.

The council's draft youth strategy contained a number of other proposals based on the YMCA survey.

These included providing more creative arts activities and recruiting young people to develop a social media strategy to spread the word about youth services.

The town council has a total of over £410,000 ring-fenced for youth services. The draft strategy was approved by the town council's leisure and community on Tuesday and will now go before full council.

MENTAL HEALTH

Charity support for wellbeing

A CHARITY is aiming to provide more mental health support in Haverhill – and says there is “very, very little” available at the moment.

Mental health and accommodation charity the Cambridge Pringle Group (CPG) is running a drop-in session on Friday, March 18, to hear residents’ thoughts on what services could be provided.

The charity has some money that it is hoping to invest in mental health support in Haverhill. This would first go towards running sessions and activities but ultimately it is hoped that the funding could be used to acquire a venue and provide a “one-stop shop” for mental health, with support available and signposting to other services.

“There’s very, very little in the town,” said Jo Streeton, a senior housing manager at CPG who grew up in Haverhill and lives there now. “It isn’t a case of facilities not being offered, but they’re all in Bury (St Edmunds), and that doesn’t help someone who can’t get on a bus due to panic attacks. A lot of funding goes to Bury. I think it’s a case of we do miss out.”

She said that apart from NHS services and Suffolk Mind’s Get Up and Grow allotment project, mental health services in the town were limited to small peer support groups.

CPG already runs two houses in Haverhill which provide accommodation to young people with mental health problems. At the drop-in session – at the Burton Centre in Camps Road from 10am to 2pm – they will ask specific questions about what sort of support would be helpful. These can be answered anonymously by anyone involved with mental health services, whether a service user, a professional, a carer or a parent.

If you’d like to find out more about the drop-in event, contact Ms Streeton on 07856 222 093.

Workshop shows all the right moves

AN international belly dance star taught local dancers some moves over the weekend.

Ozgen, who specialises in the Turkish style of belly dance, has performed across Europe, Asia and the Americas, but on Saturday he was in the Cambridgeshire village of Linton.

The London-based dancer, who is about to embark on a world tour, led two workshops, one tango-inspired and one to drum music, at Linton Village College.

The event, organised by Sue Baker of local dance school Buckleton Bellydancers, also raised £63.60 for belly dance-funded charity Just Because, which helps Egyptian women with breast cancer.

Sue said the event was “well attended by locals as well as international students and teachers of belly dance”.

Teaching assistant sees school's work in Nigeria

A TEACHING assistant spent a week in the Niger Delta as part of a school's continuing work with a medical charity.

Sandra Linnane, 53, who works at Coupals Primary Academy in Haverhill's Chalkstone Way, visited the Nigerian region during half term in mid-February to see the work being done by Cambridge-based Christian medical charity New Foundations.

The school has been helping people in the Niger Delta through New Foundations for around three or four years. It has helped raise funds to buy land for a bungalow, to provide medical help such as immunisations and eye operations, and to buy animals including goats and chickens for the community there.

The school has also sent over education supplies such as books, pencils and paper. Pupils at Coupals have even received a video message from schoolchildren in the Niger Delta thanking them for the classroom equipment.

Mrs Linnane said about her trip: "It was a wonderful experience, and the people are so grateful. They were so amazed that somebody from Coupals Primary School had gone all that way to see them – but I thought that I was so lucky to be able to be a part of it."

She visited communities in the River Rine area of the Niger Delta, where New Foundations works, as well as two working medical clinics, two clinics under construction, and schools.

When she arrived a shipment of wellington boots and other equipment which had been collected by parents and children at Coupals had just been delivered. Mrs Linnane and New Foundations staff were able to wear the boots to protect against snake and insect bites, parasites and worms.

The land that the school has fundraised for has enabled New Foundations to build a bungalow which is set to be used as a training centre, a place for visitors to stay and a gathering point for the local community.

The land around the bungalow is set to be cleared and fenced off to make a place to graze livestock and grow maize.

Mrs Linnane said that Coupals planned to continue fundraising for New Foundations. One of the next activities will be a competition to name some goats that have been bought for the charity by the school.

Mrs Linnane said: "The children love it. They are so interested. It's wonderful that they get to see where the money is going."

Anyone who might be able to help with the school's fundraising efforts can call Mrs Linnane on 07749471548.

Company in top 20 employers

A HOUSING association has been named one of the top 20 not-for-profit companies to work for in the country.

Havebury Housing Partnership, which manages thousands of homes in the Haverhill area, has been ranked nineteenth in the Sunday Times' 100 Best Not-For-Profit Companies in the country to work for.

The ranking was made based on the views of the company's 2009 members of staff and the organisation's policies.

The review found that 75 per cent of staff believed they had a positive future in the company, and 81 per cent believed Havebury had a strong social conscience.

Karen Mayhew, chief executive at Havebury Housing Partnership, said: "We are thrilled to hear that we have been placed in the top 20 not-for-profit organisations to work for."

"It is essential to contain a happy workforce within the office in order to be successful, as it means that tenants in our 6,000 homes can be assured of a consistent, high quality service that our staff provide."

FREE-RUNNING

'Tackle parkour with sensitivity'

FREE-RUNNERS have defended their sport after police warned young people that it could be dangerous – and said they might use anti-social behaviour powers to stop it.

Youngsters in Haverhill have been causing concern to police by climbing onto the roofs of buildings and performing "free-running" stunts such as jumps.

Sgt Matt Gilbert, of Haverhill police, said: "We have had an increase again in kids doing free-running and mucking about on the roofs of the High Street and on top of Poundstretcher [in Haverhill's Jubilee Walk]."

The issue has been on-going, with one young person falling through the roof of Lloyd's Bank in the summer of 2014, and Sgt Gilbert said there had been several occurrences on Friday and Sunday afternoons.

He continued: "We want to warn them of the dangers and pitfalls of mucking around on roofs. It could cause an injury."

"Officers are looking to

HANNAH MIRSKY

get the details of youngsters doing it and make parents aware. Ultimately, if it's the same ones we can use ASB [anti-social behaviour] powers to stop them. If they breach that notice they can be arrested."

But 17-year-old Haverhill free-runner Dawid Kierkowski – who found the sport's community welcoming when he moved to the town from Poland – said the warning was based on a misunderstanding of the sport.

He said: "A lot of people think it's dangerous because they see amateurs do it. Those are just people who do it for extra fun. They are reckless. They don't control themselves. I'm not going to say that's free-running."

He said that if someone properly trained in free-running – also known as parkour – were going to go onto a roof, they would be performing pre-planned sequences of movement that they had practised near the ground beforehand. He said that he only tended to practise on roofs if there was a unique quality to the space or if he wanted to shoot a video.

His concerns have been echoed by 26-year-old Haverhill free-runner Shane Griffin.

He said that a heavy-handed approach to tackling reckless behaviour on roofs could alienate young people who wanted to get involved in the sport.

He said: "I think a better approach would be more communication, saying: 'Someone's done that and they've hurt themselves. Go to the gym first, or train in these areas.'"

"Because you can do it anywhere, you don't need to train on roofs. A bit of communication is needed, not just slamming an ASBO on them. That might make them go down a darker path."

WORLD BOOK DAY

Fancy dress, quizzes and lots of books

HANNAH MIRSKY

WAS that Harry Potter? Did I just see Cruella De Vil?

If you noticed a host of book characters descending on Haverhill on Thursday, you weren't seeing things. Schoolchildren across the town were dressing up for World Book Day.

Young people from Samuel Ward and Castle Manor academies, as well as primary schools including Clements Primary and Kedington Primary, donned costumes for the annual event. Even toddlers from Puddlebrook nursery took part in dressing up.

Some schools also held special activities on the day. At Place Farm Primary Academy children were treated to an assembly run by Harry Potter and Hermi-one Granger, while at Burton End Primary Academy youngsters took part in a World Book Day quiz. Pupils at Westfield Primary Academy participated in a competition to design book covers.

New Cangle Primary School took an unusual approach by holding a "random reading day" instead of inviting children to dress up.

At random intervals throughout the day a horn sounded and everyone in the building had to stop what they were doing and read for 10 minutes.

We must take on more nurses

WORKING in any environment experiencing staff shortages can be incredibly challenging and have potentially serious consequences. This is particularly true of nursing. New figures, obtained through Freedom of Information requests, suggest there were more than 23,400 nursing vacancies in the NHS in England, Wales and Northern Ireland as of 1st December last year. This is the equivalent to 9% of the workforce.

This is no surprise to the Royal College of Nursing. Nursing posts are often the first target when savings need to be made, leading the NHS to find itself dangerously short and having to spend more on agency staff and recruitment from other countries. The UK is not training enough nurses to meet our needs and changes to student funding are yet another threat to future staff numbers.

The consequences are felt by nursing staff and patients alike – nurses work under relentless pressure and patients face delays and unmet needs. Tackling the problem is made no easier because vacancies are no longer collected, held or published centrally so we could effectively assess workforce gaps nationally. Freedom of Information allows us some insight but is by no means perfect.

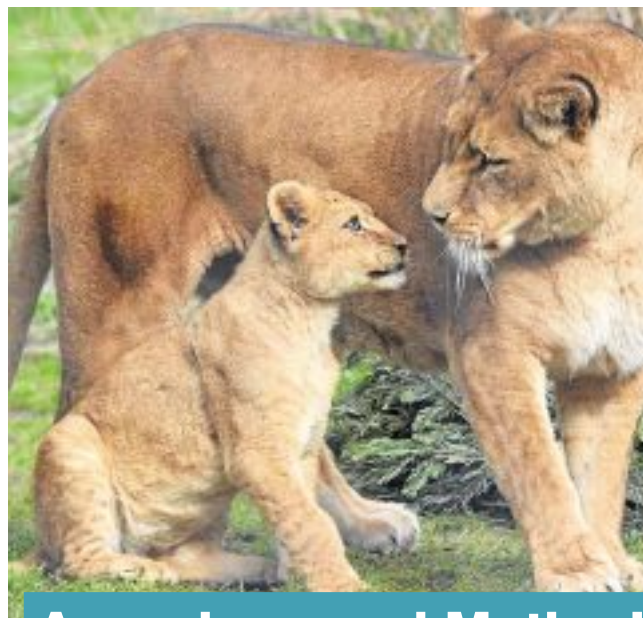

The gap between NHS staff needed and staff available must now be reduced as a matter of urgency.

A roaring good Mother's Day

MOTHERS across Cambridgeshire were showered with affection over the weekend – and it was no different for the residents of Linton Zoo.

This picture shows the blossoming relationship between 10-year-old African lioness Safina and her two cubs, born on September 30 last year.

Zoo director Kim Simmons said: "They are a lovely family. The cubs didn't start to venture out until they were eight weeks old but now it's a job to keep them in. They are on the go all the time."

The cubs are yet to be named and a competition is due to be held on Facebook for the public to choose.

The contest will be run in partnership with The Lion Guardians charity, and also aims to raise awareness of their work in Kenya and Tanzania.

The charity works with local communities in these countries to find science-based conservation strategies to help humans and lions coexist.

Kim added: "Lions are another species which are crashing in numbers and so protection is vital if we are going to make sure these creatures survive into the future."

He was born in Ford near Wooler in Northumberland in 1878 and was married to Hannah, he had four children William Ralph (my grandfather) Olive, Gordon and Norman, my father Derrick is one of his grandchildren; he is now 85.

Gordon worked as a chauffeur for the Travellian family who had homes in Northumberland and Cambridge.

He was married to Maud and had two children, Peter and Jennifer. I would like to find them as it is nearly the centenary of Thomas' death and I will be going to the village of La Boisselle where he died for a service at the Lochnagar Crate; this was blown up and signalled the soldiers to go over the top. We don't have any photographs of Thomas and I would love to see what he looked Unfortunately Thomas has no known grave and I don't want him to be forgotten. If anyone knows the family please can you ask them to get in touch with me through your newspaper.

A LITTER pick was organised by the Haverhill Community Ambassadors.

We approached Samuel Ward Academy and asked them if they would like to support the work we do in the community.

They were very keen to help and the idea of a litter pick around the area of the Haverhill Football Club was suggested.

They arranged for 23 students from Key Stage 3 & 4 to come along for an hour or two to help tidy up around the Club.

We were joined by two teachers and three Haverhill Ambassadors.

They collected a total of 62 bags of rubbish which weighed a total of 200kgs! The students received

GOLF

Golfer left £3,000 in debt after legal fight over car

HANNAH MIRSKY

@HannahMirskyCN

A GOLFER who was overjoyed when he won a car by hitting a hole-in-one has been left more than £3,000 in debt – after the win dissolved into a bitter legal battle.

Jake Warner, 24, of Haverhill, thought he'd won a brand new Vauxhall Corsa last June after winning a hole-in-one contest at Haverhill Golf Club.

"It went in and we were all jumping about, going a bit mad," he said.

Mr Warner even posed for a picture with the car he thought he had won, which was next to the hole on the course. It had writing on it that read: "Win this car if you get a hole in one".

But when he visited the dealership he realised that the Corsa he was set to be given was a registered £6,500 one litre model.

"It was a far lesser car," he said. "It wasn't new."

Mr Warner decided to take Haverhill Golf Club to court.

In January he lost his case at Cambridge County Court and was left with £11,000 in legal costs. Mr Warner said he lost because he hadn't seen the car before he signed up for the competition.

Immediately after the hearing, the golf club and its insurance company offered Mr Warner a pre-registered, non air-conditioned Vauxhall Viva worth £8,300. He eventually accepted an out-of-court settlement of £7,500, which he used to pay legal costs, although this still left him more than £3,000 in debt.

Haverhill Golf Club issued a statement stating that it never denied Mr Warner had won a car and had made a "very generous offer" to him. The statement said the club was "fully vindicated" by the court's decision to throw out Mr Warner's claim.

Mr Warner's lawyers, FMC Solicitors, declined to comment.

Cambridge County Court said that the two parties had come to an agreement on February 11.

Project could see cut in crime

HANNAH MIRSKY

@HannahMirskyCN

NEW and improved services for young people are being developed in Haverhill – in a project that could reduce crime and anti-social behaviour.

Organisations including the leisure centre, town council, the police, social housing provider Havebury, and youth charities such as the YMCA and Catch22, are working together in a new approach to help families and young people.

They are hoping to tackle issues such as anti-social behaviour, poor school attendance and the perception of a lack of services in Haverhill.

The scheme is part of the county council's Suffolk Family Focus project, and a key organiser is PCSO Chris Bales, the police family focus officer for West Suffolk.

He said: "What we are looking to do is to bring these services together so that they can work in partnership."

He said that residents would start seeing the effects of this new co-ordinated approach by the summer.

He said plans under way included expanding a sports-related service run by Catch22 and providing the after-school "Chill Out Zone" at the leisure centre on more nights of the week.

There are also plans to have youth workers walking the streets of the town during evenings, weekends and school holidays, directing young people to places they can go to access services. There are likely to be two or three youth workers out and about at any one time.

PCSO Bales said: "We are looking to remove as many barriers to these services as we can. We need to ensure they are accessible."

He said that outreach workers, such as these youth workers and those who run the services, would be keen to get feedback on what the town needs to help the project choose its future direction.

PCSO Bales said the project could have an effect on the entire community: "Perhaps you would see reported instances of anti-social behaviour reduce, you would see reported crimes reduce, and greater visibility of support services so people know where to go to access them."

He advised residents who want to access services to contact town clerk Colin Poole on (01440) 712 858 or the leisure centre on (01440) 702 548.

COLLISION

Two vehicle crash

A PARAMEDIC'S vehicle was involved in a collision in Haverhill on Sunday.

Police were called to the incident in Burton End, which also involved a blue Vauxhall Zafira, at 7.15pm. There was no patient on the paramedic's vehicle and no-one was injured.

HAVERHILL HEROES

Tennis, football and volleyball players vie for sporting award

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

A TENNIS champion, a dedicated footballer and a young volleyball coach are in the running for a sporting award.

Keri Tobin, Thomas Newman and Dominika Szary are the shortlisted finalists for the Haverhill Heroes Sporting Award.

Keri, now 13, was just 12 when she won Haverhill Tennis Club's adult ladies' singles title last autumn, beating the six-year reigning champion. She was the youngest player ever to achieve this title.

Keri, who lives in Haverhill's Burton Close, said her favourite things about tennis were "competing and playing against people that are older than me."

She plays in the Halstead U18 league as well as at Haverhill Tennis Club.

She said about being nominated: "I was surprised because when I first started I didn't think I would get anything like that."

She will be vying for the Haverhill Heroes award against Thomas

Newman, a 15-year-old keen footballer who lives in the town's Ash Grove.

Thomas, who plays for the Haverhill Rovers U18 team, and is part of Cambridge United's Shadow Academy team, said he was "shocked" to be shortlisted for the award.

He gives up four mornings a week to coach football at Burton End Primary Academy, and has been coaching his own U8s team this season.

moved to England aged 11, started playing for local team the Haverhill Hornets.

Dominika is studying sports development and coaching at West Suffolk College and coaches the Haverhill Hornets, as well as maintaining their online and social media presence. She has taken part in Volleyball England's National Talent Camps and has even won the organisation's Young Coach of the Year Award.

She said: "I love it. I want to go to university to do sports coaching as well."

Dominika, who lives in Haverhill's Abington Close, said about discovering she was an awards finalist: "I was quite happy and shocked."

The Haverhill Heroes Awards were launched by the News and the Castle Partnership Academy Trust last autumn.

The sporting award is being sponsored by Abbeycroft Leisure. The winner of this award, and of the five other categories, will be announced at an awards ceremony at Haverhill Arts Centre on Wednesday, March 23.

Help get Gary Barlow to attend charity fun day

HANNAH MIRSKY

@HannahMirskyCN

A PAIR of fundraisers are trying to enlist the support of star performer Gary Barlow – and you can help.

Kerry Farrant, of Mill Hill, Haverhill, and Emma Williams, of the town's Strawberry Fields, have launched a Twitter campaign to get the Take That frontman to come to Haverhill.

The friends have been organising a series of fundraising events called "My Mum, My Dad" after each of them lost a parent to cancer.

They are hoping to raise £10,000 to divide between the Addenbrooke's oncology ward and St Nicholas Hospice Care, which runs the Burton Centre in Haverhill's Camps Road.

After a successful bingo night was attended by 125 people and raised more than £1,300, they are focusing on organising a family fun day on May 8.

The event – which will take place at the New Croft in Chalkstone Way – is already set to have dance performances, inflatables, stalls, fair-ground games and more.

But Kerry and Emma are trying to get a celebrity guest as well.

Kerry said: "Can you seriously imagine just being there having fun, and then Gary Barlow walks in? It would absolutely blow us away."

The pair have been tweeting the pop star and urging others to do the same.

"Share away, tweet away," said Kerry. "Just imagine: Gary Barlow in Haverhill."

The fundraisers have been tweeting a host of other celebrities to gain support and raffle prizes.

They've been followed by celebrity chef Gordon Ramsay and been promised signed merchandise by comedian Russell Kane.

Find the fundraisers on Twitter at @mymum1mydad1.

To find out more about the family fun day, call the New Croft on (01440) 702 137.

EMERGENCY

Teenager is seriously hurt in accident

A PEDESTRIAN in her late teens was left with "serious injuries" after a collision in Haverhill involving a Volkswagen Golf.

Emergency services were called to the accident in the town's Millfields Way, at around 11pm last Thursday, March 3.

The ambulance service sent a paramedic, a rapid response vehicle and an ambulance crew to the accident, and the East Anglian air ambulance was also in attendance.

The woman, thought to be aged around 18 or 19, sustained injuries to her hip which the police described as "serious".

The teenager was taken by land ambulance to Addenbrooke's Hospital in Cambridge.

She was conscious and breathing when emergency services arrived and her injuries were not thought to be life-changing or life-threatening.

The driver of the Volkswagen Golf was not thought to have been injured.

Police are carrying out a routine investigation.

They are asking anyone who may have seen anything to call Suffolk police on 101 quoting reference number 380.

CRIME

Warning after vehicle crimes

RESIDENTS are being warned to remove valuables from their vehicles after a spate of car crimes in Haverhill.

Between 11.45pm on Sunday, March 6 and 6.46am on Monday, March 7, a silver van parked in the town's Mill Hill was broken into.

On the Tuesday morning, the car's owner found the front nearside door open and a Tom Tom sat nav worth £100 and a purse containing bank cards stolen from inside the vehicle. Police do not know how the thieves got into the Mini Cooper.

In the wake of these crimes, police are asking residents to be vigilant. Sgt Matt Gilbert, of Haverhill police, said: "Make sure there are no valuables in the car and try and remove sat navs."

"I know people just want to get into their house but if they can remove items of value and clear the windscreen it helps."

HANNAH MIRSKY

ous week, between Monday, February 29, and Tuesday, March 1, when a Mini Cooper parked in the town's Mill Hill was broken into.

On the Tuesday morning, the car's owner found the front nearside door open and a Tom Tom sat nav worth £100 and a purse containing bank cards stolen from inside the vehicle. Police do not know how the thieves got into the Mini Cooper.

In the wake of these crimes, police are asking residents to be vigilant.

Sgt Matt Gilbert, of Haverhill police, said: "Make sure there are no valuables in the car and try and remove sat navs."

"I know people just want to get into their house but if they can remove items of value and clear the windscreen it helps."

He advised keeping a cloth in the car to wipe away the mark left on the windscreen by sat nav suction cup.

Sgt Gilbert said that tools were often a target for thieves, and advised workmen to remove as many tools as possible from their vans.

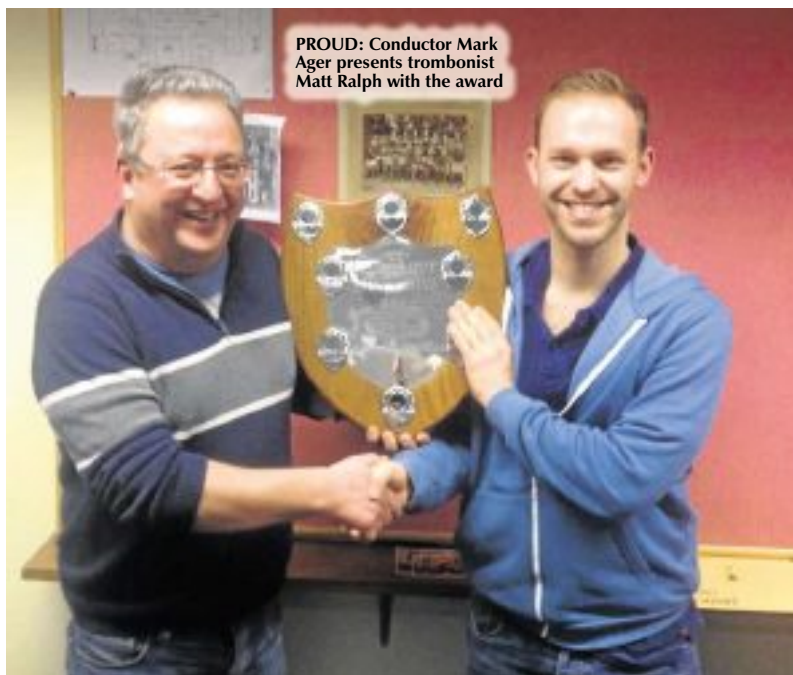

He also suggested parking with the back of the van against a wall so that thieves could not attempt to gain entry through the rear doors.

Police are keen to speak to anyone with information about any of these incidents. If you have seen or heard anything, call Haverhill police on 101.

Alternatively, you can contact Crimestoppers, anonymously if required, on 0800 555 111.

The Railway Children

THIS Easter Monday, March 28, Haverhill Arts Centre will screen The Railway Children (2016), a film of York Theatre Royal's Olivier award-winning production performed in summer 2015 at the National Railway Museum, Yorkshire.

The film captures the imaginative stage adaptation of E. Nesbit's cherished novel and features the original locomotive from the much-loved original 1970 film.

The Railway Children follows the story of Roberta, Peter and Phyllis, who suffer a huge upheaval when their father, who works for the Foreign Office, is taken away from their London home and – falsely – imprisoned.

The children and their mother, now penniless, are forced to move from London to rural Yorkshire near a railway line.

The story deals with themes of justice, the importance of family and the kindness of strangers.

Tickets are £15.00, £12.00 or £48.00 for a family ticket. Call 01440 714140 or go to www.haverhillartscentre.co.uk.

■ Thursday, March 10 – Friday, March 18

■ Stoke College returns to the arts centre for its second performance of MC Beth tonight at 7pm; a tale of competition for the top spot in the 1980s music mixing industry. Expect some classic 80s tunes and a dose of neon fashion in this tale of power struggles and ambition.

■ If you fancy a bargain, visit the arts centre for the popular table top sale on Saturday, from 10am to 1pm.

■ Haverhill's ever popular Centre Stage Company returns to the arts centre from Thursday, March 17, to Saturday, March 19, with 1970s Middle England comedy Abigail's Party. If you fancy a laugh, this is the place to be. Beverly and her husband Laurence are hosting a drinks party in their suburban home and their guests Tony, Angela and Sue are subjected to Beverly's desire to be an exemplary hostess. Think big dresses, cheese and pineapple with Demis Roussos crooning in the background! The laughter starts at 7.30pm with a 2.30pm matinee on the Saturday.

■ Events to look out for include a recorded broadcast of the Bolshoi Ballet's Spartacus on Sunday, March 20, at 3pm. In ancient Rome Spartacus, a Thracian king, is turned captive by Crassus with his wife Phrygia.

Forced to fight as a gladiator and kill one of his friends, Spartacus plots an unprecedented upheaval. Principal dancer Mikhail Lobukhin is stunning in the role of the legendary gladiator in this version of the famous tale that was created at the Bolshoi in 1968 and has since remained the company's signature ballet. Samuel Ward Academy performs Jai Seppel's musical Disco Inferno on Saturday, March 26, at 7pm and Sunday, March 27, at 4pm. Set in 1976, the show features memorable songs of the '70s era, including Boogie Nights, Celebration and Hot Stuff. The musical is loosely based on the story of Faust – what terrible pacts could the disco-devil be making with those unsuspecting groovers?

■ And for the 3 to 7 year olds Free-hand Theatre brings Frogs and Snails and Teddy Bear Tales on Wednesday, March 30, at 11.30am and 2.30pm.

ABIGAIL'S PARTY: Brought to the arts centre by Centre Stage Theatre Company

It's bear's birthday tomorrow. How will he ever get to sleep? Bedtime stories of course! Weaving together tales of the seasons, go and enjoy the inventive puppetry, music and humour of this delightful ursine show. Take along your own teddy bear to enjoy it too – bears go free!

CUTE: Fiat's new 500S

Fiat debuts the 500S at Geneva Motor bash

HOT on the heels of the new Fiat 500, which was launched here in September, comes the new Fiat 500S which makes its global debut at the 2016 Geneva Motor Show.

Compared to the standard Fiat 500, the new Fiat 500S is equipped with sports bumpers, special side skirts and a rear spoiler, while the door handles, tailgate, "moustache", mirror fairings and 15-inch alloy wheels are finished in exclusive "Satin Graphite". New design 16-inch wheels with a matt diamond black treatment are available as an option. Rear privacy glass, a chrome-finish exhaust tailpipe, a bold rear grille and two specific body colours, Electronica Blue and a new Matt Green, complete the list of exterior features the FIAT 500S benefits from.

The new Fiat 500S goes on sale in the UK in the summer, with pricing and final UK specifications to confirmed closer to the car's launch.

B&S delights in power and variety of Peugeot scooters

PEUGEOT'S Kisbee 50, on sale now at Histon-based Buckingham & Stanley, is Europe's best-selling scooter of any capacity for the third year running.

Once again, the Kisbee 50 out-sold its nearest rivals in the charts Yamaha XP500 TMAX and Hondas SH150AD by 22 per cent and 38 per cent respectively.

It was also the third best-selling Powered Two Wheeler in Europe overall, a repeat of its performance in 2014 and 2013. BMWs R1200GS and the Yamaha MT-07 claimed the top two spots.

Figures released by the UK Motorcycle Industry Association show that more commuter sized motorcycles and scooters were sold during 2015 than for any other year since comparative records began in 1983. Peugeot Scooters saw UK sales grow by 38 per cent in 2015, out-performing the booming market for two-wheeled commuter transport.

Powered by a four-stroke motor with a three-chamber exhaust, the Kisbee is capable of 108mpg. Chunky 12-inch wheels with sports profile tyres, telescopic front forks and twin rear shock absorbers give it a sure-footed feel on the road and, weighing just 95kg, its easy to squeeze into the tightest parking spaces. Beneath the seat is a storage compartment big enough to hold a full-face helmet and the Kisbee offers plenty of legroom thanks to its flat floor pan.

Competitively priced for a premium-spec scooter from a major European brand, the Satin Flash Silver Kisbee sells for £1,299. The Sportline version includes a 170mm Shurricane front disc brake, black fork legs, engine cover and alloy rims, plus alloy bar ends and a special edition seat – selling for £1,399. Both models are covered by a 24-month warranty.

Buckingham & Stanley's Peugeot range now includes the three-wheeled Metropolis, which makes it as easy as possible for car drivers who want a scooter to get around town on: the Metropolis needs only a standard driving licence to ride.

"We are extremely happy to offer such a class leading scooter that is both practical and affordable," says Luke Gordon, the site manager for Buckingham & Stanley's Histon site. "The Kisbee 50cc is ideal for 16 year olds who can't wait until they are 17 to learn how to drive. Once a 16 year old has completed their compulsory basic training they are on the road and have all the freedom they desire at that age!"

"On the other hand, we are just as proud to offer the stunning three-wheel Metropolis which offers fantastic levels of comfort and specification. More impressively the Metropolis opens a whole new riding opportunity to the masses as it is able to be ridden on a standard car licence!"

For details of the complete range of Peugeot scooters, call Buckingham & Stanley on (01223) 554069 or visit cambridge-scooters.peugeotcooters.co.uk.

Arash's 2,080bhp £1.1m AF10 Hybrid

ARASH Farboud has been independently developing his own supercars since 2003, with the launch of his AF10 in 2009.

At this year's Geneva Motor Show Newmarket-based Arash unveiled the new AF10 Hybrid, pictured, boasting a claimed 2,080bhp. Some 900bhp of this comes from an impressive 6.2-litre supercharged V8 engine, with the remaining 1,180bhp supplied by four independent electric engines, each solely operating one wheel to propel this hypercar to 0-60 in under three seconds.

All this comes at a price with a price tag of £1.1m so this 200mph-plus hypercar isn't necessarily available to everyone.

A non-hybrid refreshed version of the 550bhp 7.0-litre V8 AF8 is an acceptable £350,000 for those with a more modest budget.

Other reveals at this year's Geneva Motor Show include the long-awaited Bugatti Chiron: this quad turbo monster offers an explosive 1,479bhp catapulting it to a jaw-dropping 261mph. So, what else does it offer for £1.9m!? Well six catalytic converters, eight pistons and 1,600 pound of torque!

Only 500 of these astronomical cars are being built with 166 of them already sold with deposits of £250,000 paid to ensure they join the club of owners of what is claimed to be the most exclusive and luxurious road car in existence!

Aston Martin unveiled the latest of the DB additions with the launch of the DB11. It is said to be the most significant model to launch since the DB9 back in 2003. Its power and efficiency from its 600bhp 5.2-litre twin turbo V12 and its stunning appearance make it a bargain at a starting price of "just" £154,000!

The DB11 offers a 0-62mph in 3.9 seconds and will continue to accelerate up to an impressive 200mph. A spokesman said when buying the Vanquish a customer had 72 options to decide on, the

ARASH FARBOUD: Newmarket legend

DB11 will be much more.

Skoda, Honda, Lexus, Maserati and Toyota were among some of the big names also launching new models. The new options offer the next stage of fuel-efficient and future-styled vehicles at this year's Geneva bash.

Others models to take a look at are the show stopping Jaguar F-Type SVR, the Audi Q2 and the McLaren 570GT.

With the show starting today, the next 10 days should be filled with tons more stats and unveilings, painting an awesome picture of our automotive future across the globe.

FUEL: Cost still falling

Fuel costs fall for the eighth month in row

THE average price of petrol fell slightly in February, marking eight consecutive months of falls, data shows.

Motorists have now enjoyed eight months of falling unleaded prices from the beginning of July 2015, when the average price of a litre was 117p a litre.

At the end of February, the average price of petrol at forecourts was 101.93p – a drop of 15p and a saving of £8.25 on filling up an average 55-litre family car, according to RAC Fuel Watch data.

Diesel rose by an average of one pence per litre at the pumps in February – up to 101.18ppl – which reflected the 2.5ppl increase in the wholesale price.

But RAC fuel spokesman Simon Williams claimed drivers would be "unforgiving" of Chancellor George Osborne if fuel duty is increased in the Budget on March 16.

MAKING THE GRADE: Members of KMA Shotokan Karate Club

Karate

MEMBERS of the KMA Shotokan Karate Club in Haverhill held their fourth grading at Clements Primary School.

And all of the students' hard

Students pass grading examinations work in training paid off as they all successfully passed their grades to a high standard.

In order to pass, the members had to complete combinations of basic and advanced moves.

The students then had to perform a sequence of moves, or katas, before finishing off with some self defence moves and five-step attacks.

The grading lasted for four-and-a-half hours, in front of a judging panel that included two sensesi, one senpai and an outside independent adjudicator.

Westcott delight as Borough seal first final place

MARTIN Westcott hailed Haverhill Borough's game management as they booked their place in a cup final for the first time in the club's history.

A 3-0 win away to March Town United saw Borough advance to the final of the Thurlow Nunn League, First Division Cup, where they will face Stowmarket Town.

Aaron Forshaw and Owen Longley had the visitors two goals up at the break.

And a late penalty from Harry Halls

made certain of their progress.

"We weathered the storm in the first 20 minutes and took the lead somewhat against the run of play with a deflected strike," said Borough player-manager Westcott.
